Gold Situation, How Real The Crisis?

Treasury Urges Repeal of 25 Per Cent Reserve Backing

DOING away with the 25 per cent "gold cover" required for the Federal Reserve deposits of commercial banks is the first major legislation that will be brought before Congress.

The unannounced intention to seek such speedy priority consideration was disclosed by President Johnson in his series of conferences with congressional leaders. He told them he will formally recommend this the same day he sends his annual economic message to Congress this week.

Senate and House leaders assured the President of full support. None foresaw any difficulty in getting prompt approval of a repeal measure by the banking committees of the two chambers.

AT THE President's urging, Speaker John McCormack, Democratic Floor Leader Carl Albert. and Rep. Wright Patman, Banking Committee chairman, agreed to undertake to bring the legislation before the House by the middle of February.

This would open the way for Senate action by March 1.

While the President's forthcoming recommendation is not unexpected, his decision to make it the first major legislation of the new Congress is a surprise.

Executive Strategy
THREE MAIN factors are behind this rush strategy

To dispose of this long controversial issue quickly before powerful opposition can be organized; forcefully demonstrate the government's determination to meet all foreign demands that dollars be exchanged for gold; eliminate potential curbs on the expansion of the Federal Reserve's money supply to meet the needs of the booming United States economy.

The President told the congressional leaders that the Federal Reserve Board and other key banking authorities strongly favor discarding all of this 25 per cent "gold cover." They will publicly advocate that at the hearings of the banking committees.

REPEAL OF this "gold cover" would add some $5 billion to the so-called free gold of the $15.5 billion in United States holdings.

This additional $5 billion would be available to meet foreign demands. Under existing United States law, only $2 billion is now available. This is due to the two mandatory gold reserves that total approximately $13.6 billion.

One of these gold reserves amounts to $8.6 billion to cover Federal Reserve notes ($1, $5, $10, etc. bills) used in everyday transactions. The other gold reserves, about $5 billion, is required to back the reserves of the nation's banking system held by Federal Reserve banks.
THE LAW REQUIRES the Federal Reserve to maintain a 25 per cent gold cover for these notes and reserves. It is this gold cover that is to be abolished.

This will be the second time this gold reserve requirement has been changed. Originally, it was fixed at 45 per cent when the United States went off the gold standard in 1934. In 1945, this percentage was reduced to the existing 25. Under President Johnson's still-unannounced plan, it will be wiped out entirely.

Monetary Problems
The Treasury's urgent appeal to remove the 25 per cent gold backing on reserves emerges as another chapter to be added to a long list of curative manoeuvres for which this institution has become famous over the years.

The Treasury's problems while coping with monetary ills have been many and varied. The repeal of silver purchase acts emerges as a prime example of the inability to offer a permanent or at least long-lasting remedy for the Nation's silver ills. At the time of passage of H.R. 5389, Secretary of the Treasury Dillon reaffirmed his conviction this bill would prolong Treasury silver reserves for 15 years. Exactly 18 months later, a silver crisis, the worst in the United States history, has developed and proven the inefficacy of Treasury-White House sponsored legislation pertaining to monetary affairs.

In retrospect, S. 2950, calling for "retention of '1964' on all coins" now appears as the ultimate exercise in futility as its efforts were solely directed at chastising hypothetical culprits, coin collectors and speculators, while the Nation's main problem - the silver shortage - was conveniently overlooked.

News of gold backing repeal, as it is politely worded, should not come as a big shock thus; in fact, the potential of this development was pointed out to PACE readers for the past year and as recently as January 2 (PACE, Vol. 1, No. 47, page 5). In his article

"Retired Silver Certificates Add Pressure on Gold," PACE concluded: "Officially denied but of increasing reality are the long-term prospects for repeal of gold re-serve requirements" and added 'gold reserve repeal would be determined by the attitudes of leading International Monetary Fund members presently committed to gold as the ultimate international reserve asset."

France Boosts the Franc

This last conclusion is illustrated by France's latest move (January 6) to replace the U.S. dollar with the French franc as the unit for reckoning monetary reserves, i.e. gold and dollar reserves. The announcement came in the face of a pronounced increase in gold and dollar reserves which now total $5.05 billion, a $104.6 million increase over the previous month. The French depicted the move as an effort towards great-er efficiency as "several countries such as Great Britain and Switzerland express their reserves in their own currencies.'

It is felt, however, the move openly indicates France's desire to restore the prestige of the Franc. Cynics whisper it is de Gaulle's latest attack in an avowed and open vendetta against the United States.

At any rate, France has increased the proportion of her gold and dollar reserves and as a sequel, gold prices have been rising for several days on the Paris Stock Exchange. Gold transactions there are reported at 13,-040,000 francs ($2,608,000) last Wednesday, a 100 per cent increase over the previous days. Well informed sources consider France's attitude in line with the philosophy "that gold is safer than dollars and that the French franc should hold its rightful place in the world monetary system."

At the time of this writing, the Treasury rationalized its position by the following statement: "The Treasury is able to give categorical assurance that neither the announced purchases of gold by the French treasury, nor the minor technical adjustment that has

The Papal Coins 1929-1964

A Metallic History of The Vatican City State

By: Christian F. Verbeke

THE papal coinage tradition proper begins about 775 with the reign of Pope Adrian I, whose metallic currency provided muchneeded monetary stability, hitherto confused by the haphazard issuance of a variety of coins by the individual Italian duchies.

The introduction of a standardized and stable central currency by the Papacy was but one of the Church's obvious achievements which would also result in greater numismatic accomplishments during the Rennaissance.

The Rennaissance

During Benvenuto Cellini's tenure at the Rome Mint, papal coinage reached the height of perfection in artistic design execution. Hired by Pope Clement VII (1523-34), Cellini continued his coinage activities during the reign of Pope Paul III (1534-49). Also famous for coinage design during this period was sculptor Francesca Francia. Without prejudice to Cellini's genius, it can be unequivocally stated the latter received the opportunity to demonstrate his talents as engraver, jeweler and sculptor by the affectionate patronage of Pope Clement.

Subsequent periods of the papacy which produced master-works of medalic art include the reigns of Pope Clement VIII (1592-1605) and Pope Alexander VII (1655-1667).

Good design on papal coinage has been a tradition ever since inception and continues to this day. Designs have been as varied as artistic. Early papal coins were usually issued in the joint names of the Pope and Emperor. The legend "ROMA CAPUT MUNDI" (Rome, the head of the world) first appeared on silver coins in the twelfth century to mark the rising ecclesiastical power.

Most frequently used for the obverse of gold coins, asides of the respective Pope's portrait, were bust of Christ, St. Peter or St. Paul or personifications of the Church. The reverse featured a shield — hence the name of "scudo" for gold papal coinage.

Early seventeenth century coinage featured the papal arms on the observe and St. Peter or St. Paul on the reverse. Some minor coinage features the holy gateway on the reverse.

The ancient papal unit of currency — the BAIOCOHO — and its fractions appeared on the reverse of coinage at the beginning of the eighteenth century to indicate value or denomination of the coin.

Papal coinage series were interrupted by Napoleon's creation of the Roman Republic (1798-99) but resumed in 1800 for Pope Pius VII (1799-1823), featuring papal portrait and arms for the higher denominations; arms and values surrounded by a wreath for the lower denominations.

The annexation of Rome by Victor Emmanuel II, King of Italy in 1871, ended temporarily the issuance of papal coinage. The papacy never recognized the loss of its temporal powers, however.

Papal Sovereignty

The "Roman Question" as the papacy's political status was referred to became permanently settled in 1929 by the Lateran Treaty. As a result of long and a r d u o u s negotiations between Cardinal Gasparri, papal secretary of state, and Mussolini's government, a treaty was signed between the Holy See and Italy on February 11, 1929.

The Lateran Treaty created an independent papal state known as Stato Della Citta del Vaticano, Vatican City State, and gave the papacy full sovereignty.

Pope Pius XI

Under Pope Pius XI (1922-1939) papal coinage resumed in 1929 and adopted the decimalized currency system, i.e. 100 Centesimi - 1 Lira.

Issued between 1929 and 1937 were the new 5 and 10 centesimi in bronze; 20, 50 centesimi, 1 and 2 lire in nickel; 5 and 10 lire in silver, and a 100 lire gold piece. (See illustrations 1 through 4). A special jubilee issue was coined in 1933.

Pope Pius XI had a rare insight of international developments yet to come. In 1931 he expressed his strong disapproval of Fascism in the letter "Non abliamo bisogno." In a powerful encyclical (Mit brennender Sorge) — With uttermost concern — Pope Pius XI denounced the tenets of National Socialism. His subsequent letter "On Atheistic Communism" remains a classic. In general, Pope Pius opposed supranationalism, racism and anti-Semitism.

Pius XI's active opposition to dangerous ideologies s t e m m e d from great humanitarian qualities also manifested by the encyclical Quadragesimo anno in 1931, critisizing laissez-faire capitalism and urging social reform. His untimely death in 1939 interrupted a lifetime of efforts in behalf of peace and justice.

Special 5 and 10 lire silver pieces — Sede Vacante coinage — were issued in 1939 (see illustrations). The tradition goes back to the early sixteenth century when some papal coinage issues, e.g. 1521, featured the inscription "Sede Vacante" — literally vacant seat — and signified the See was vacant at the time of coinage.

It is customary not to strike coinage with a portrait during the period which follows the death of a pope and the coronation of his successor. The coin's obverse bears the arms of the pontifical chamberlain.

Between two pontificates the Sacred College of Cardinals takes over the work of ecclesiastical administration. The present Sede Vacante rules and procedures are inspired by the Constitutions of Pope Leo XIII (May 24, 1882) and Pope Pius X (Dec. 25, 1904), incorporated in the code of canon law.

Pope Pius XII

The accession of Pius XII (1939-58), the former Cardinal Eugenio Pacelli, was marred by the first rumblings of World War II. Ideologically Pius XII was the true spiritual successor to Pope Pius XI whose ideals he fully perpetrated; hence his preoccupation with peace, the sufferings of displaced persons and prisoners. He continued Pius XI's opposition to communism and laissez-faire capitalism. Pius XII's early opposition to the use of atomic energy in warfare is only one more expression of spiritual courage.

Vatican coinage under Pope Pius XII's reign was marked by the introduction of newer metals, at least for metallic currency applications, e.g. Stainless Steel and Aluminum. This decision stemmed mainly from raging inflation in Italian finances. All denominations struck under Pope Pius XI continued, although in 1942 brass replaced bronze in the low denominations, 5 and 10 centesimi.

It should be mentioned that Vatican coinage is struck at the Italian government mint — "La Zecca." Accelerated inflation had all but eliminated intrinsic value in Vatican coinage by 1947 when newer types of aluminum coins were issued, the lowest denomination became the 1 lira.

Commemorative coinage was issued in 1950 for the Holy Year celebration. A 100 lire gold coin was struck for this occasion.

A 20th year commemorative 500 lire silver coin was struck in 1958; the coin is now an esteemed collector's item. Pope Pius XII's death was followed by another Sede Vacante issue in 1958. The coin, a 500 lire silver piece, measures 29 millimeters in diameter and is 2 millimeters thick; it weighs 14 grams of silver 83.5 per cent fine alloyed with 16.5 per cent copper. The obverse reads "VENI SANCTE SPIRITUS" in exergue and symbolizes the Holy Spirit. The coin has also become a desirable collector's item.

Pope John XXIII

Pope John's relatively short reign, rich in achievement however, continued the coinage tradition established earlier and saw the introduction of more unusual and modern coinage metals. Currently used, the alloys identified by the Italian tradenames: "Acmonital" (steel containing 18 per cent chrome) for 100 and 50 lire coins; "Bronzital" (composed of 91.6 per cent copper, 8 per cent aluminum and 0.4 per cent titanium) for 20 lire coins; "Italma" (96.2 per cent aluminum, 3.5 per

The Federal Reserve Board has now the authority to reduce or eliminate this 25 per cent gold backing on bank reserves for a two-week period. A firmer arrangement appears likely, however, by the introduction of legislation to eliminate the gold reserve requirement against bank reserves. In spite of renewed official reassurances, the scheme smells of loose monetary policies, recklessly expand-

Gold

As of December 1, United States currency in circulation amounted to $34.6 billion against $13.6 billion combined bank and currency reserves; the nation's gold holdings total $15.5 billion against which there are outstanding $12.3 billion in short-term dollar liabilities to foreigners.

Under the proposed Treasury scheme, the 25 per cent backing on banking reserves would be removed, this reserve totals presently $19 billion deposited by commercial banks with the Federal Reserve banks.

According to apologists of the move, the 25 per cent backing for paper currency or Fed notes in circulation would remain unchanged. Since notes outstanding total $35 billion, $8.8 billion (25 per cent of the $35 billion) would be needed as gold cover with the ensuing result that some $6.7 billion in gold stock could be used to meet potential claims of foreigners instead of only the $1.9 billion currently available.

The fallacy of the Treasury's reasoning can escape no one, for the shuffling of papers and balances coupled with grandiose demonstrations of financial wizardry before Congress can not change the basic monetary predicament of the United States. Indeed, no legislation can augment the U.S. gold reserve, nor can it reduce the outstanding claims by foreigners on this gold re-

What will be accomplished, however, is a further debasement of the United States dollar, if not the de facto preparation for devaluation. These developments alone are bound to reduce international confidence in the dollar and raise considerably the long-term prospects for a "run on the dollar" and its dire consequences.

Late Silver Developments

The Treasury report on silver scheduled for February 1 may be delayed perhaps until March or April, according to some sources.

E. F. Hutton & Co. the brokerage house, has just issued a survey on silver which suggest that "risk investors take a partial position in silver." It takes a look at the four leading silver producers - Hecla Mining, Cerro Corp., New York and Rosario Honduras, and American Smelting & Refining Co. the top refiner. Other companies are also considered.

Hutton says that coinage requirements are the basic problem and that the Treasury report will be a key factor in what decisions are to be made. If non-silver coins are proposed the prices on silver shares would probably decline, it is said. If no action is taken in 1965, the scramble for Treasury silver may be speeded up. Eastman-Kodak has been long working on a substitute for silver in film, but such a development is not a near-term probability. Hutton says, in part, "If a non-silver coin act were legislated, prospects for higher prices would be pushed into the indefinite future. If speculative holdings were dumped, the price of silver could dip below the present Treasury ceiling of $1.29. However, persistent industrial consumption in excess of new mine production probably would restore the present price level in a relatively short time.

"If a law is passed to halve the silver content of subsidiary coins, an increase in the price of silver to the $1.38-$1.40 area could be anticipated. The actual timing of such an increase would depend on how long the Treasury continues to redeem silver certificates. This, in turn, depends on the still unanswered questions such as to what degree might speculative hoarding step up the redemption of silver certificates?

1965 B. U. CANADIAN COINA

Canadian coinage for 1965 promises to be the best yet. The obverse of all coins has been changed and now portrays a more mature image of Queen Elizabeth. We have seen Canadian coinage become scarce and prices rise in the years 1963 and 1964. We suggest that you order now while our prices are low. Again we offer our Layway Plan for easy financing.

WHY ORDER FROM THE DOWDS?

As the largest Canadian dealers in the States, we offer you a stock that is located in the States. When you order from us, there is no prolonged period of waiting for your merchandise to clear Customs, therefore no Customs fees. Also you do not have to take the risk of having your mint sealed bag opened at the borders.

In the long run it is cheaper and safer to become another one of the Dowds' satisfied clients.

Canadians please note our Canadian address. When shipping to our Canadian customers, we ship either Parcel Post or Rail Express from Montreal, again avoiding shipping between the countries

(Continued from Page 2) cent magnesium and 0.3 per cent manganese) for 10, 5, 2, and 1 lire coins; "Lega argento" signifies silver coins 835 fine for the 500 lire denomination. The last Vatican gold coin was struck in 1959, a 100 lire denomination in gold 900 fine (22 carat). In 1962 a special series of coins was issued for the Ecumenical Council. The largest denomination, 500 lire silver, features Pope John XXIII wearing the tiara or triple crown, not seen on coinage since the 1950 Holy Year 100 lire gold commemorative depicting Pope Pius XII. Pope John's abrupt death on June 3, 1963, was marked by the subsequent emission of the most recent Sede Vacante 500 lire coin dated 1963, struck in silver. The design is in every way reminiscent of the 1958 Sede Vacante issue. Pope Paul VI

The former Cardinal Montini succeeded Pope John under the name of Pope Paul VI on June 30. 1963. The same year saw the emission of a new series of coins; current to date they include:

The regular issue coinage for Pope Paul VI was released by the Vatican last August 1964 although the coins are dated 1963.

An eight-piece presentation set is issued in a red logy in minting techniques, virtually stagnant since decades.

Aesthetically Vatican coinage is an outstanding contribution to numismatics, technologically it is modern and advanced. To coin collectors in general, papal coinage should be a most interesting and challenging field of collecting. To Catholics, Vatican coinage constitutes a "live" record of papal history from 1929 to date.

Space City Averages:

How They Are Obtained

With close to 1,500 separate statistics appearing each week in PACE, a need exists to express this information in graphic form for busy readers.

We are currently charting eight dif-

we are currently charting eight different coin series each week as you see below. These charts are based on Space City Averages, an arbitrarily chosen group of rolls which we feel are representative of the total for that series.

To be included in the Space City Averages rolls are chosen on the basis of three factors: (1) their trading is constant, (2) they are widely held, and (3) they are indicative of the It is obvious infrequently traded items, closely held items, and extremes in the series would not serve this purpose.

Each week the statistical staff of PACE prepares these averages from the information obtained on The American Numismatics Exchange transactions.

The amount expressed in the Space City averages is the total market bid prices for the rolls included in the averages. This is a dollar figure and is compared with previous week, month, and year figures for analysis.

MARKET SUMMARY

January 27, 1964

By Russell Brown

NICKELS, dimes, halves and, to some extent, quarters were in the news this week as the market solidified its position. Only the Lincolns and proof sets moved on the downside of a market lacking in volume.

Jefferson nickels continued their performance of last week though there were several declines of a minor nature. While the 1950-D paused in its upward swing, the 1950-P and 1955-P wasted no time and continued on their advance with gains of five dollars each. Most price changing activity occurred in the area of the late forties and early fifties.

Roosevelt dimes scored two to one on advances over declines and while most changes were small, there was as good volume as has been seen in many weeks. The 1950-P and 1955-P were in heavy demand and a slack in ordering of the 1955-D still found that issue gaining two dollars. Only the 1948-S declined significantly, losing six dollars.

The Franklins after the quiet of last week were on the move again with heavy demand for the key 1953 and 1955 Philadelphia issues. Many bids were noted lower than those of the last weeks and few were honored. In fact, to obtain any of the more desirable rolls, buyers had to meet ask prices. The 1949-P exhibited its thinness of supply by jumping $35 upon request by only two purchasers

Washington quarters were quiet with very small volume noted. The 1958-P and 1955-D shared the spotlight with gains of four dollars each. Other than a loss of four dollars by the 1945-P, there were no other changes of consequence.

The silver dollar market remained in its doldrums for yet another week. While there were a few isolated gains and losses, most of the activity centered around key singles in circulated condition. Each day offers to sell long lists of rolls are noted but few contirmations are ever seen. Yet the price of the junk bags keeps edging upward. It appears that the day of obtaining any bag of B.U. dollars for $1,200 or less is fast drawing to a close.

Now that the impact of the Canadian proof like sets has lessened, the proof market seems willing to return to its usual calm. Demand for the 1964 set lessened and casual scanning of the tapes for four days tailed to turn up any requests for sets dated earlier than 1950. The 1950 set with good cent has gone up in price and there seems to be quite a market for that set with a bad cent. This points up the fact that many proof sets have been purchased and stored by investors who have had no idea on how to take care of numismatic merchandise. As a result, the cents have suffered and since it is nearly impossible to clean them without leaving traces, sets with good cents are becoming more and more valuable.

Lincoln cents were slightly off as most of the market's interest went to the larger denominations. Only the 1936-D, however, scored a loss of any consequence. The small dates seem to have paused in their rather hectic price increase. Whether they will continue upward remains to be seen.

The Market Opinion One notes that the price of gold has sagged back just a trifle now and the B.U. double eagle seems to have homed in on $50 as a wholesale price. It would appear that it will take some drastic governmental action to trigger a further increase.

More and more, dealers are demanding quality rolls when they buy. They seem more than ready to pay the going prices but they want to be assured that if they have to break up the rolls into singles, they won't have a bunch of A.U.'s on their hands.

American Numismatics Exchange Transactions

BU Roll Prices as of Wednesday, January 27, 1965

These bid and asked prices, from the American Numismatic Exchange Inc., do not necessarily represent actual transactions. They are a guide to the range within which these coins could have been sold (indicated by the "bid") or bought (indicated by the "asked") at the time of compilation. Price changes are obtained by com-parison of weekly bid prices.

Prices are wholesale quotations compiled from the American Numismatic Exchange teletype system which serves 195 coin dealers across the country.
